

Yale Institute of Sacred Music presents

Ecologies, Environmentalisms, and the Black Sacred Arts

May 13-15

Greenberg
Conference Center

Yale Institute of Sacred Music's third conference on the Black sacred arts will convene scholars and artists in New Haven, CT to explore connections between the Black sacred arts, ecology, and environmental concerns.

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

Tracey Hucks

Victor S. Thomas Professor of Africana Religious Studies at Harvard Divinity School and Suzanne Young Murray Professor at Radcliffe Institute for Advanced Study

Dianne M. Stewart

Samuel Candler Dobbs Professor of Religion and African American Studies at Emory University

Warriors of Huracán, The Flying Agitan,
Ifa Moloka ©2019 Abigail Hadeed

View full details and register

Sponsored by the ISM's Religion, Ecology, and Expressive Culture Initiative